Celebrating Congregational Unity: Focusing on Family Harmony

There is nothing more beautiful than family celebrating together in the spirit of unity. This kind of family harmony is not possible without the presence of Christ. Jesus said, whenever “...two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them” (Matt. 18:20). We have the assurance of His presence and opportunity to glimpse the bare essence of unity by our presence in worship today. Seeing that we are here, we might as well praise His name together. When praises go up, blessings come down. Let’s just praise the Lord!

As a congregation, celebrating unity, we also celebrate family oneness. We worship as a unit bound by our common ties through the blood and the Christian faith. We need each other to make it in the world. Father need son, mother need daughter, brother need sister and sister need brother.

The nuclear, as well as the extended family, are dependent upon each other for support. Coming to church is an affirmation of our dependence upon each member of the family for encouragement. The fact that we worship together as one body in Christ is a celebration of unity in itself. In other words, when we worship the Lord together as one body, the church becomes alive and energizes itself for service. Two to a family, or three to a household, whatever the number, the important thing is being together in unity. The time that is ours now will soon end.

Every Sunday, especially “Focus on Family Harmony” Sunday, the Lord has blessed us to be with members of our families in worship. “The family that prays together, stays together.”

Every moment is important, and we should take advantage of every opportunity to celebrate our oneness in Christ as the family of God.

What is family? The biblical family consists of husband, wife and children as indicated in Genesis 2 and 4. It also means a group of people who come under the banner of God’s rule. Family is never just husband and wife; it’s always offspring from the marriage of a man and woman.

Family is important because it holds society together and is the trunkline of culture. Without family, the country would fall apart. God ordained the family from the beginning. It is our basic support system in the world. The enemy has launched an attack on the family, but we must fight back with all we have to save our families. The reason any of us are here today is because of our basic support system - Family!

What is our role as it relates to family? We must first of all, “love our family and give them respect.” Second, we must seek the salvation of individual family members, and third, religiously educate our children. We must be there when family needs us. And above, all pray for the family.

“Celebrating Congregational Unity: Focusing on Family Harmony”

What is the church? The church is people who have made a personal profession of faith in Christ Jesus and were baptized in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost and now faithfully live in the community and gives regular praises and worship to God. The church worships, fellowships, studies God’s Word, prays together, communicates and communes together regularly. One’s role to the church is to be a good and godly member.

What is the church’s role in this congregation? The church’s role is to provide care for its members on a personal basis. As the congregation grows, it is essential that the body nurtures itself as Christ so designed “From whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love” (Ephesians 4:16). The Pastor or Deacons cannot service each and every member. We must do what our covenant says, “watch over one another in brotherly love, to remember each other in prayer; to aid each other in sickness and distress; to cultivate Christian sympathy in feeling and courtesy in speech.”

We call upon each of you as members of this congregation to extend yourself just a little and help the Deacons and leaders do a good job of serving you by providing basic information when needed.

As we focus on family harmony, I can’t think of a more beautiful verse than Psalms 133:1 “Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity.”

When every person of this congregation begins to celebrate unity as opposed to dis-unity, diversity as opposed to sameness, strengths as opposed to weaknesses, then we will have congregational celebration of unity in this church!

Let’s just celebrate our common heritage in Christ our Lord!

Praise ye the Lord!

Celebrating Family and Unity.

History of Pastor Appreciation Day

Pastor Appreciation Day originated in 1992, initially known as Clergy Appreciation Day. This day was born out of a desire to acknowledge and thank pastors for their extensive work beyond the pulpit.

This includes guiding their congregations spiritually and emotionally without the confines of a typical work schedule. Pastors often work under considerable stress, with little to no downtime, showing appreciation for their tireless efforts.

The concept of setting aside a day specifically for pastor appreciation was driven by the realization that if there could be a day to acknowledge groundhogs, there surely should be one to honor the clergy.

Inspired by this thought during a brainstorming session, Jerry Frear, Jr. suggested that pastors deserved their special day, which led to the establishment of Pastor Appreciation Day on the second Sunday of October.

This initiative encouraged congregations to celebrate and support their pastors and leaders, recognizing their vital role in the church and community.

Focus on the Family significantly championed the promotion of Clergy Appreciation Month and Pastor Appreciation Day in the early 1990s.

This effort reminded congregations of the importance of acknowledging their clergy staff and families throughout the year, with a special emphasis in October.

The observance has evolved over the years, with congregations finding various meaningful ways to express their gratitude, from notes of encouragement to more substantial gestures like vacations.

The practice of showing appreciation for church leaders is grounded in Biblical principles, as highlighted by Paul in his New Testament letters.

This Biblical basis underscores the importance of honoring those who lead in preaching and teaching. In addition, it recognizes the double honor they are due for their commitment and the stresses associated with their roles.

Hymn of the Month | Leave it There #216

1. If the world from you withholds
of its silver and its gold,
And you have to get along with meagre fare,
Just remember, in his Word,
how he feeds the little bird;
Take your burden to the Lord and leave it there.

Refrain:

Leave it there, leave it there.
Take your burden to the Lord and leave it there.
If you trust and never doubt,
he will surely bring you out;
Take your burden to the Lord and leave it there.

2. If your body suffers pain and your health you can’t regain,
And your soul is almost sinking in despair,
Jesus knows the pain you feel;
he can save and he can heal;
Take your burden to the Lord and leave it there.

3. When your enemies assail
and your heart begins to fail,
Don’t forget that God in Heaven answers pray’r;
He will make a way for you and will lead you safely thru;
Take your burden to the Lord and leave it there.

4. When your youthful days are gone,
and old age is stealing on,
And your body bends beneath the weight of care,
He will never leave you then;
He’ll go with you to the end;
Take your burden to the Lord and leave it there.

“Worship by Giving”

Worship Leader - 8. Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings. 9. Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation. 10. Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

ORANGEBURG MASSACRE (1968)

The Orangeburg Massacre took place in Orangeburg, South Carolina at South Carolina State University on February 8, 1968. This horrific incident ended with three young men killed, Samuel Hammond, Henry Smith, and Delano Middleton, and twenty-seven other students wounded. It was the worst example of violence on a college campus in South Carolina's history.

The incident began when approximately 200 students gathered on February 6 to protest the segregation of black patrons at the nearby All Star Bowling Lanes. The first demonstration proceeded without incident. The following night many of the students returned to resume the protest, but, in this instance, fifteen of them were arrested. The third night, February 8, tensions were already running high on both sides from the previous night's arrests.

The students gathered on the South Carolina State University campus instead of at the bowling alley. They built a bonfire which a law enforcement officer attempted to put out. In the process, he was injured by a piece of a banister thrown from the crowd. A highway patrolman then fired his gun into the air in an attempt to calm the crowd. Upon hearing the shot, other officers, thinking they were being fired upon, opened fire into the crowd of students.

Hammond and Smith, who were South Carolina State University students, and Middleton, a 17-year-old high school student, were killed and 27 other students were wounded. The high death and injury totals came in part because officers used shotguns with buckshot when they fired into the crowd. Many of the victims were shot in their backs or through the soles of their feet as they ran. None of the students were armed.

Nine officers were held responsible for the shootings and were brought to trial on charges of excessive force at a campus protest.

All nine were acquitted of all charges. The only person who was charged and sent to prison as a result of this incident was Cleveland Sellers, the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) representative who was convicted of inciting the riot that had led to the shootings. Sellers was later pardoned for his role in the incident.

The day after the shootings Governor Robert E. McNair spoke of this as "one of the saddest days in the history of South Carolina."

OCTOBER is

National Bullying Prevention Month

More than a decade together against bullying and united for kindness, acceptance and inclusion.

National Bullying Prevention Month is a campaign in the United States founded in 2006 by PACER's National Bullying Prevention Center. The campaign is held during the month of October and unites communities nationwide to educate and raise awareness of bullying prevention. Initially held the first week in October, the event was expanded in 2010 to the entire month.

PACER developed the initial campaign, National Bullying Prevention and Awareness Week, to raise awareness about bullying. Historically, bullying had been viewed as "a childhood rite of passage" that "made kids tougher," but the reality has always been that bullying can leave devastating and often long-term effects such as a loss of self-esteem, increased anxiety, and depression for those involved. PACER reached out to the community through partnerships with education-based organizations such as the National PTA, the American Federation of Teachers and the National Education Association to provide schools, parents and students with the educational resources and support to better respond to bullying behavior. The National Bullying Prevention Center laid the groundwork so that National Bullying Prevention Month is now a nationwide call to action around educating communities as to their roles in bullying prevention. This initiative has helped shift thinking away from bullying as "rite of passage" and toward the knowledge that bullying can be prevented and stopped through education and awareness.

October is National Bullying Prevention Month

National Bullying Prevention Month is recognized in communities across the United States, with hundreds of schools and organizations signing on as partners. Facebook, Disney, Instagram, CNN, TLC and Yahoo! Kids and many others have supported the month through media outreach and dissemination.

Breast Cancer Facts

What is breast cancer?

Breast cancer is a disease in which malignant (cancer) cells form in the tissues of the breast.

Facts about Breast Cancer in the United States

- One in eight women in the United States will be diagnosed with breast cancer in her lifetime.
- Breast cancer is the most commonly diagnosed cancer in women.
- Breast cancer is the second leading cause of cancer death among women.
- Each year, it is estimated that over 246,660 women in the United States will be diagnosed with breast cancer and more than 40,000 will die.
- Although breast cancer in men is rare, an estimated 2,600 men will be diagnosed with breast cancer and approximately 440 will die each year.
- On average, every 2 minutes a woman is diagnosed with breast cancer and 1 woman will die of breast cancer every 13 minutes.
- Over 2.8 million breast cancer survivors are alive in the United States today.

A Global Burden

According to the World Health Organization, breast cancer is the most common cancer among women worldwide, claiming the lives of hundreds of thousands of women each year and affecting countries at all levels of modernization.

Good News About Breast Cancer Trends

In recent years, perhaps coinciding with the decline in prescriptive hormone replacement therapy after menopause, we have seen a gradual reduction in female breast cancer incidence rates among women aged 50 and older. Death rates from breast cancer have been declining since about 1990, in part due to better screening and early detection, increased awareness, and continually improving treatment options.

Amidst Difficulties.

Breaking the Cycle of Hatred and Bitterness

We know Lord, that throughout our lives, each of us will experience problems and difficulties.

Give us courage and strength at those times and prevent us then from looking only at ourselves.

Keep our vision wide so that, even in times of difficulty, we may still be of help to others.

Help us not to be bitter towards people or situations but empower us to take the initiative and break the cycle of hatred, bitterness, and evil actions.

Help us to transform the difficulties that come our way into opportunities for personal growth and service to others. Amen.
